

National Trust

The recent good weather is certainly making vegetation grow fast and the rangers are busy cutting the footpaths across the property. The South Devon estate stretches from Wembury Point in the West through to Dartmouth in the East. Covering an area of more than 8000 acres, which includes 40 miles of coastline there is a huge number of footpaths, bridleways and gateways to keep clear. If you notice that any of our paths are in need of cutting please feel free to let us know via a phonecall or email.

We need to say a massive thank you to all our volunteers for their continued support and great work across the property. Mike who has been busy painting Wembury Beach café shop has made a lovely job of the windows and doors in the new colour to match the café and handrail on the steps.

We are all looking forward to the Big Beach Picnic on the 4th July at Wembury Beach. There'll be lots going on including rock pooling, a beach treasure hunt, mini raft racing, storytelling, water sports tasters and refreshments from the Old Mill Café. In partnership with the South Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Devon Wildlife Trust Marine Centre this one-off event to celebrate the coast starts at 11am and finishes at 2pm. Bring a beach blanket, a tasty picnic and your swimsuit! More details can be found online at www.nationaltrust.org.uk/wembury.
